

50 HIGH FANTASY random events

- Encounters -

METAL TURTLE GAMES

1. An astronomer observes the moon with his telescope when a mysterious object passes by and crashes in the vicinity.
2. A dam explodes and the valley is flooded, unfortunately the inhabitants have no time to evacuate. Houses are filled with objects just waiting to be fished out.
3. A strange fog spreads over the country and hypnotizes people, who gather in a specific place, waiting for the return of a powerful being.
4. An elegant man is forcibly taken to court to be tried for a dark history of adulterated alcohol.
5. A frilly little girl falls in love with one of the PCs and regularly brings them homemade cake as a pledge of her affection.
6. Hazel nuts have been made illegal by the king when he realized he is allergic to this dry fruit. Prices are skyrocketing and important traffic is taking place.
7. At nightfall fires are seen in the distance, it is a sect burning infidels who have the misfortune to cross their path. They worship a golden idol.
8. A small woman holding a stall promotes an exotic dish containing various spices never brought to these countries.
9. People are massed at the tavern to test a new beer which surprising taste leaves no one indifferent.
10. A stern-looking woman summons a broom with a short formula and flies over under the staring gaze of passersby.
11. A rumor speaks of glasses made from priceless diamonds. It is said to be found deep in a dungeon, extremely well guarded, which discourages most adventurers.
12. A mage has tamed a butterfly of incredible size to obey his whims and spreads terror in the surrounding villages.
13. A fisherman shows whoever wants a bucket sheltering a strange and repulsive fish that he has caught this morning at his usual spot.
14. One of the PCs receives a surprise gift from a mysterious admirer.
15. A spaghetti golem is invoked by a magician specialized in golems after a failed vocation in the field of gastronomy.
16. PCs dream that their whole life is only due to the randomness of a society game played by the gods. And that they send giant dice, particularly aggressive and well armed, after them.
17. Traps containing popcorn are laid all around this village to capture cockroaches that have reached a disturbing size.

18. A new cult meets every full moon on a ridge. During the day the members of this cult can be identified thanks to the brooch they wear permanently.
19. A jester tries to seduce a lady, not realizing that his costume and his squeaky accessories are not to his advantage.
20. That night, heartbreaking cries and unbearable squeaks were heard as a gate to hell opened.
21. A badger has become fond of a girl's lost doll and is attacking anyone coming too close.
22. A merchant has just installed a stall where he sells all kinds of different fruit flavored milks such as nuts, banana and strawberry.
23. A wizard is being prosecuted for selling pipe herb to children. This is actually a misunderstanding, they were hobbits.
24. A girl is cursed and condemned to be tormented by all the fish, living or dead, the latter waking up in her presence.
25. A cook has been trying for years to make the most glamorous pizza that has been given to eat on this earth under the watchful eyes of his clerks.
26. An athlete strives to break every ridiculous records to make sure that their name is remembered one way or another.
27. This summer will be organized a challenge for adventurers of the area to determine which is the best of them.
28. A hunter had to lock himself in his own trap (a cage) to escape a huge beast he had never seen before.
29. PCs are trapped on a narrow rope bridge suspended over a deep ravine and whose ends are catching fire.
30. Villagers, puzzled, found this morning that all the fruits of the market have inexplicably rotted during the night. Apart from those of a very specific stall.
31. A butter-covered man roams the street murmuring for himself a story of apocalypse involving the gods.
32. Young boys train to fight using sticks with metal-reinforced ends before the return of merchants who cheated them.
33. An eradicator uses his own technique to get rid of pests. It consists of strolling dressed in pieces of meat to lure them into a trap of its making.
34. A woman walks the street, wearing surprisingly bright shoes, attracting the lust of all the looking shrews.
35. A cult worshipping coffee and caffeine, considered harmless until now, attacked a caravan, looting it to satisfy their never ending addiction.

36. A flutist sees his head priced after having charmed the queen and made the king a cuckold.
37. A museum is just a front for a dungeon filled with various humanoid monsters posing as wax statues with the help of a magician's spells.
38. A criminal is chased by the guard, which tries to capture him but he escapes them thanks to his dancing moves.
39. A horticulturist managed to grow a new variety of rose, apparently of great value. He is now forced to hire mercenaries to protect it until the customer who ordered it come pick it up.
40. An angel with broken wings falls into a lake, then its water become instantly black and empty of all life.
41. A repulsive persecuter threatens a noble lady with his knife, he wants her to give him her gold coins and jewelry.
42. The countryside was ravaged by a lord driven mad by witchcraft after he threatened to have a witch hanged.
43. A rather simple boy runs through villages, a bucket on his head and a wooden sword in his hand, offering to help people like the noble knight he thinks he is.
44. The bodyguard of a rich merchant is shaking a bad paying customer to make him understand that if he does not pay his debts, nothing good will happen to him.
45. Recently, tea rooms, where can be tasted cupcakes, are very fashionable but are reserved for a handpicked female clientele. Nobody really knows what is going on inside.
46. A truly imposing but troubled man follows a magician everywhere after he promised to heal his condition.
47. A trainer gives a show involving extremely fluffy and adorably clumsy small dogs.
48. A carter is about to lose control of his carriage, injuring several people and knocking his precious goods off the ground.
49. A terrible cold wind has been ravaging the region for several days, preventing people from doing any outdoor activities and threatening crops dangerously.
50. A giant tree shelters a hut in its branches, it serves as a den to all outcasts.