Simple Jewelry Items

Welcome to Two Bit Tables: Simple Jewelry Items. Have an NPC that always wears a certain piece of jewelry? Want to give out something other than money as treasure? Want a quick description of a common magic item? Well, never fear - Healing Fireball Publications is here with a collection of tables designed to allow a Game Master to create a random collection of simple jewelry items.

Why Don't The Items Have Prices?

Prices are not given for the items in the tables to allow their final quality to be determined by a Game Master. Intricacy of craftsmanship is only hinted at in the items' descriptions and no data is given on the quality of the stones. This lack of prices and non-descript item quality should allow a Game Master to adjust an item's worth to fit the situation or setting, i.e. a minor haul might have a ring with a cloudy ruby where a major haul might have a ring with a clear ruby.
