Simple Treasure Items

Welcome to Two Bit Tables: Simple Treasure Items. It happens to every game master as time goes on - the treasure you reward gets simpler and simpler, usually devolving to just giving money, weapons and the occasional piece of jewelry as treasure. Want a quick description of a unique magic item? Well never fear, Healing Fireball Publications is here with a collection of tables designed to allow a Game Master to get a random collection of simple unique treasure items other than weapons, jewelry and money.

Why Don't The Items Have Prices?

Prices are not given for the items in the tables to allow their final quality to be determined by a Game Master. Intricacy of craftsmanship is only hinted at in the items' descriptions and no data is given on the quality of stones. This lack of prices and nondescript item quality should allow a Game Master to adjust an item's worth to fit the situation or setting. Finally, prices have been left out to make the tables as universal as possible as different worlds will have different availability of metals and stones and thus different prices.

How to Use the Bolt of Cloth Generator

An alternative form of treasure is to give out bolts of cloth that have not been sewn into a final form yet. To generate this type of treasure, roll once on each of the columns below. The results should generate what type of material the fabric is, what color it is and if it has a pattern or design on it.
